REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Note that the 112 claim rejections are moot in view of the cancellation of the claims. There are no 112 issues regarding to new claims. The combination of Kasahara and Frankel fails to teach or suggest the claimed invention. Kasahara teaches a composite material having adhesive coated beads having average diameters in the range instantly claimed. The adhesive is present in an amount within the claimed range. The composite material has a void volume within the claimed range. Kasahara is completely silent as to a hardness of the adhesive. Frankel discloses the liquid adhesive can have a hardness ranging from 0 to 45. Frankel teaches away from the adhesive formulation having the hardness ranging from 75 to 85 (see comparative examples 16 and 17). One skill in the art would be motivated to regulate the hardness of the adhesive composition to obtain the desired tensile strength of the final product. But no one would have known to combine the adhesive hardness ranging from 60 to 95 with a particular adhesive quantity, and the void volume set forth in the claim to achieve the desired impact resistance of the composite material. Accordingly, the instant claims are deemed allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
